Tradition is defined as "the handing down of statements, beliefs, legends, customs, from generation to generation, by word of mouth or by practice." As beliefs and customs change, tradition must change. Throughout the world this Olympic year has been one of drastic change, or altered tradition. Trips to China and Russia were made by the United States President to seek better international relationships. Winning seven Olympic gold medals, Indiana University grad Mark Spitz became a living legend. The Olympics, formerly a symbol of peaceful unity and friendship, radically changed into one of hate, sorrow and fear because of Arab terrorists. President Nixon succeeded himself to a second full term in an over whelming landslide. An end to the long-fought war in Vietnam was attained.

In Anderson, the nearly century-old courthouse was demolished and a new one was built. For the first time, city officials approved graffiti and the students let the city know they were proud to attend MH by proclaiming it on the board surrounding the courthouse construction site. The people of Anderson realized that facilities for youth were lacking. The Police Department sponsored a series of summer rock festivals. Communication was bettered as cable T.V. came to Anderson.

On August 28, 1543 students entered the halls of Madison Heights. New lockers were installed to accommodate the increased enrollment. Band members walked proudly through the doors with MH's ninth-place trophy. The first black student body president took office. The 1972 State Finalist banner hung in the gym. A fence was put around the football field. Girls' sports returned to MH with the formation of the girls volleyball team. Many organizations donned new outfits.

Candidates were interested in youth because of the 18-year-old vote and a Candidate's Day was set up for MH seniors and members of the newly-formed political clubs. The Jesus Movement was evident as many students wore patches and buttons. Students wore POW bracelets to show concern for the captured and missing men in Vietnam. Women's Liberation was observed at MH with many female students doing jobs usually filled by males.

TITRADITION CHANGES

IN STUDENT LIFE

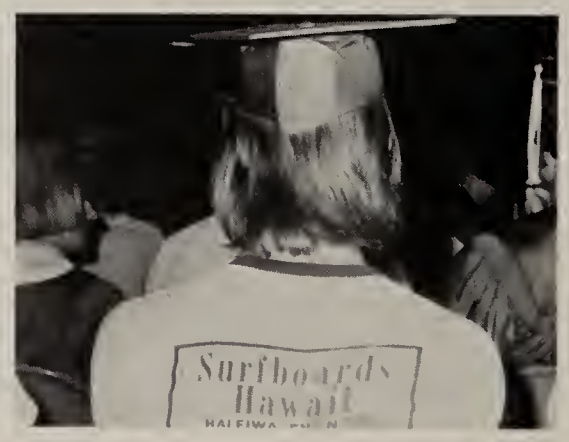
With the advent of the 18-year-old vote, the Young Democrats and Republicans organizations were formed. For the first time in years, girls participated in organized sports at MH. Seven students were elected at-large from their respective classes to serve as representatives in Student Council. The largest TC staff ever, and the vocational students printing the JR were signs of more student involvement. The Buccanneer was published each semester. Changing outfits for the first time in three years, Pep Club girls had new scarlet jumpsuits.

MUD TUG, PIZZAS SPARK ACTIVITIES

An important question is discussed with "Judge Clancey" as seniors clown around.

Senior Week came quickly to a close for the graduating class of 1972. Baccalaureate, Cap and Gown Day and a dinner-dance were among the scheduled events. At a party held in the cafeteria, soon-to-be grads autographed yearbooks while consuming dozens of pizzas. Senior boys and junior girls wallowed to victory at the annual Mud Tug. Prior to commencement rehearsal, members of the class assembled for a breakfast at Linder's. Seniors peddled popcorn throughout the year to reduce expenses of Senior Week activities. Marshals Susan Cunningham, Marilyn Fisher, Bob Bassett and Rick Ledbetter led the class to commencement exercises. After listening to the addresses of class officers Dennis Jackey, Cindy Tracy, Debby Brown and Nancy Graham, the 451 graduates received long-awaited "sheepskins."

Mud Tug victims Tim Welker and Tim Garrett enjoy a mud bath after the defeat.



Visions of "things to come" decorate the back of this senior waiting graduation.

BRIGADOON SEEN BY TWO HUNTERS

Sue Snyder, Terry Boram, and Mark Turner try to calm the between-act butterflies.

In the old woodshed in "Brigadoon," Meg Brokie attempts to charm Jeff Douglas.

Choir and orchestra talents were displayed in the MH production of "Brigadoon". Directed by Mr. D. William Frame, Ron Hostetler and Debbie Lambert led the seventy-member cast in the starring roles of Tommy Albright and Fiona McLaren. Jeff Douglas, portrayed by Don Elmore, and Tommy were hunters from New York. Wandering aimlessly through the Scottish highlands, they found the mysterious village of Brigadoon. Through Fiona, Tommy discovered that Brigadoon was under the spell of a miracle which allowed the town to appear one day every hundred years. At the end of the day, Tommy and Jeff had to leave, but Tommy vowed to return. He came back after three months and joined the town under the miracle with his bride, Fiona.

The Concert Choir members display their dancing abilities during "Brigadoon".

SEMI-OPEN PROM HIGHLIGHTS YEAR

A bearded member of "The Awakening" soulfully keeps the beat for prom couples.

Queen Misty Ward searches for her crown as President Joel Pitman catches it.

The 1972 semi-open Prom, "A Night to Remember," saw the largest attendance ever. The gala affair was decorated with a rock garden, a wishing well, a cobblestone walkway and many colorful backdrops. "The Awakening" provided the music for 183 couples at the May 12 event. Souvenir photographs were taken in the cafeteria.

The Prom Committee was headed by Carol Fox and Gloria Sorg. Baskets were used as table centerpieces, while redbud trees gave an enchanting appearance to the gym.

The 11:00 crowning of Queen Misty Ward as the 1972 Prom Queen by Junior Class President Joel Pitman crescended the excitement in the school gym. Gloria Sorg and Beth Maddy were attendants to Queen Misty.

Penny Hamilton carefully serves the refreshing punch in colorful cups.

PIRATES WELCOME SUMMER

STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS—Dan Hubler, Marlene Hilligoss, Steve Johnson, Carol Fox.

Junior Alberta Smith jots down an order while working at Frazier's Dairy Maid.

Substitute Steve Songer blasts LeAnn Holding for preferring softball to class.

T-Leaguer Bruce Richmond exchanges handshakes with senior fan Sue Ann Snyder.

Nancy Weatherford and Patty Lewis use skills obtained from the B.S.U. workshop.

Senior Marilyn Fisher utilizes experiences learned in summer job at the bank.

Varsity squad calms down to pose after winning first-place county fair award.

Ginger Whittaker and Beth Maddy smile as they did in the 4-H queen contest.

SPIRITED SIX WIN AT COUNTY FAIR

A muscular Tim Welker begins a 150-pound bench press during a summer workout.

Summer resulted in a respectable ninth-place ranking for the Band Of Pirates at the State Fair Band Day competition. The band marched diligently at Band Camp at Turkey Run State Park, preparing for Band Day. The Indiana University Student Council Workshop was the center of learning for the 1972-73 student body officers. Many skills they learned at the workshop were applied to the Madison Heights SC this year, such as a monthly newspaper issued by Student Council to inform the school of its progress during the year. The cheerleaders brought home a commendable first-place county title after competing at the 4-H County Fair. The two Treasure Chest editors attended a Journalism Institute at Ball State, absorbing many new ideas for the production of a yearbook. Eighty percent of all MH students were employed with summer jobs.

Nan Bowman sports a first-place trophy for horsemanship at a summer 4-H show.

Volunteer Linda Quinn helps a handicapped child at the Davis Park Day Camp.

T-league Coach Greg Roof meets with "little men" to construct game strategy.

Lourdes Leyva models attire at Anderson Fur Company's summer fashion show.

Perfection-bound band members slave away in the boiling sun at band camp.

Parading floats in pre-game festivities and half-time queen crowning ceremonies highlighted the 17th annual Homecoming. The senior class captured the $25.00 first prize awarded by Student Council. Band's "Pirate Captain Hook'Em for Victory at Sea" and Jolly Roger's "Pirate's Get Their Wish" received honorable mention acknowledgements.

The Senior's float, "Humpty Titans Will Have A Great Fall," wins first place.

One of the many Homecoming floats make an honest effort to win top prize.

Pirate gridmen, hoping to win the Homecoming game, tackle a Muncie South Titan.

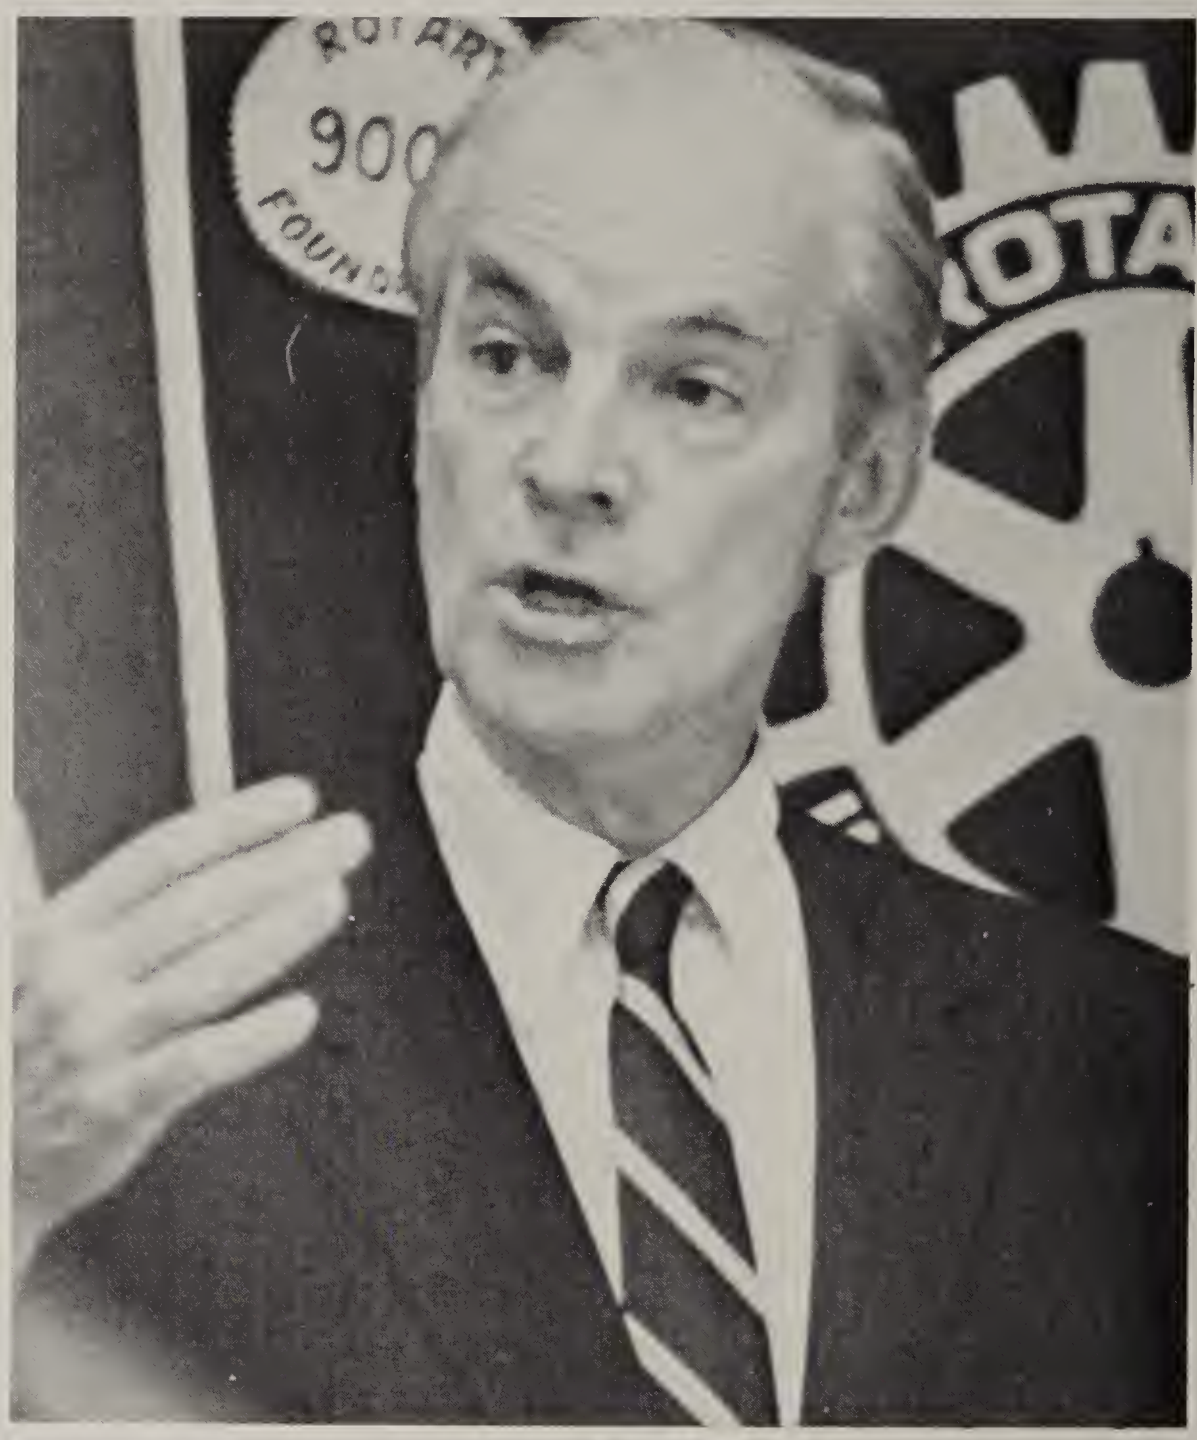
Steve Johnson crowns overjoyed junior Joni Skiles as '72-'73 Homecoming Queen.

RICHARD NIXON REINSTATED; BOWEN WINS GOVERNORSHIP

Young Republican Debbie Bradford puts finishing touches on rally decorations.

Congressional candidate Bud Hillis discusses an issue with senior Tom Porter.

Matt Welsh, a Democratic candidate for governor, stresses a point during a speech.



With the moral support of an umbrella, McGovern discusses politics with an aid.

Otis Bowen visits with an elderly voter, while he campaigns for governor.

Weeks of campaigning ended for politicians on November 7 when thousands of citizens cast their vote in the general election. At the polls, balloters pulled levers representing favorite county officials, representatives, court justices, presidential choices and other offices. Hoosiers also voted on five state consitutional amendments. Eighteen-year olds exercised voting privileges for the first time in a national election.

President Nixon retained the position of Chief Executive with a landslide victory over Senator George McGovern. Dr. Otis Bowen and Robert D. Orr were winners in the state gubernatorial race. Locally, Republicans topped the tabulations with the exception of State Representative Craig Campbell, the only winning Democrat. In keeping with the campaign spirit, the Social Studies Department held "Candidate Days." Area candidates voiced views on election issues and answered questions posed by students.

Vice-Presidential candidate Sargent Shriver gives a confident wave to the crowd.

Christmas convo chairman Dan Hubler studies before preparing the show format.

Santa Paternoster uses holiday humor to enchant Mrs. Roller and Mrs. Simmons.

Helping to raise the annual staff's spirits, Patty Lewis decorates the tree.

Senior Debbie Bradford puts finishing touches on SC Christmas decorations.

Decoration of the school by Student Council marked the beginning of the holidays for MH students. Debbie Bradford headed the crew of Student Council members that decorated the school.

Dan Hubler and Arnold Smith were the Christmas elf emcees at the annual Christmas convo. Student Council members portrayed people of Christmases past, present and future. The choir presented the Singing Christmas Tree, singing traditional Christmas carols. The Highlighters, dressed in costumes of the madrigal, sang carols of the medieval era.

The Pirate roundballers were dropped by Greenfield in the opening game of the Holiday Tourney. The Pirate team defeated Noblesville in the consolation game.

SPLENDID CROWN FOR DEB

TREASURE CHEST QUEEN CANDIDATES AND ESCORTS—Eduardo Paternoster and Patty Lewis, Dave Sutton and Sue Ann Snyder, Jeff Evans and Cindy Staley, Kevin Lucas and Carolyn Durham, Mike McLain and Miriam Dill, Greg Roof and Nancy Weatherford, Bruce Browning and Ginger Whittaker, Tom Koester and Lourdes Leyva.

Debbie Bradford reacts with surprise as she is named '73 Treasure Chest Queen.

1973 TREASURE CHEST QUEEN AND COURT—Bruce Browning and Ginger Whittaker, Steve Tweed and Debbie Bradford, Tom Koester and Lourdes Leyva, Jim Smith and Susie Cunningham.

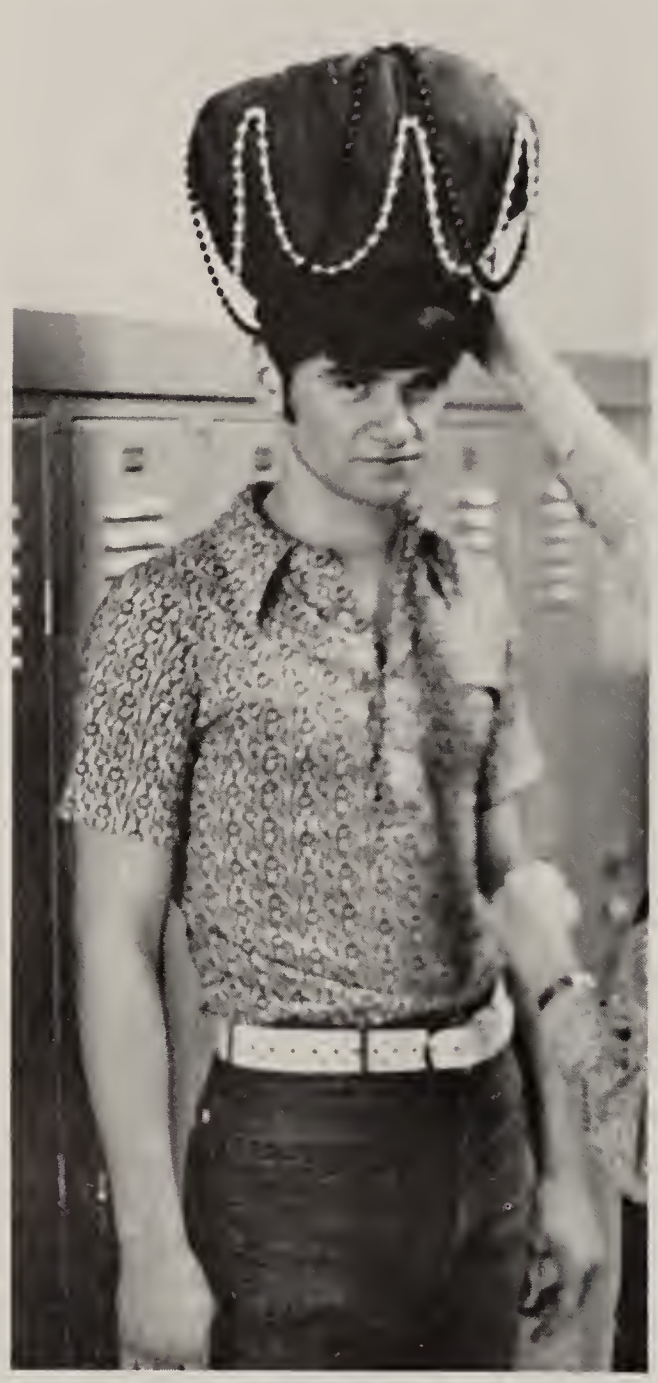
Escort Steve Tweed helps TC Queen Debbie Bradford securely fasten her crown.

Debbie Bradford was selected from a group of sixteen nominees as the 1973 Treasure Chest Queen. First, second and third runners-up in the contest were Lourdes Leyva, Ginger Whittaker and Susan Cunningham respectively. Senior members of the Treasure Chest staff nominated candidates from the top third of the senior class and an all-school election determined the winner. Crowning activities took place during half-time of the Madison Heights-Greenfield Central basketball game. The queen received a silver charm bracelet and charm along with a dozen red roses. Attendants were presented with silver charms. Dan Hubler served as master of ceremonies for the annual event.

TREASURE CHEST QUEEN CANDIDATES AND ESCORTS—Rick Pitts and Marilyn Fisher, Mike Himes and Lisa Dare, Dane Hill and Louise Cotton, Dwight Shockency and Carlotta Crumes, Steve Tweed and Debbie Bradford, Jim Smith and Susie Cunningham, Dan McLaughlin and Debbie Caylor, Kim Contos and Chris Kuhl.

WELKER, WALKER SPIRIT ROYALTY

Senior cager Larry Buck reigns as Mr. Gorgeous Gams at the sectional convo.



Mr. Lallathin and Mrs. Worrell, alias Mr. Black and Mrs. Scarlet, show spirit.

Juniors Craig Walker and Dana Welker reign as Mr. Black and Miss Scarlet.

The wearing of school colors by the students signified the beginning of Red and Black Week at MH. Students worked on hall displays, bulletin boards and banners for the pep sessions to help add spirit throughout the week.

Juniors Dana Welker and Craig Walker reigned as Miss Scarlet and Mr. Black at the sectional pep session. The Jolly Roger sponsored the annual Mr. Gorgeous Gams contest, which was won by senior cager Larry Buck. For their display of school spirit, Mrs. Patsy Worrell and Mr. Bernard Lallathin were chosen as Mrs. Scarlet and Mr. Black by the cheerleaders. The Hall Display Award and the Jolly Roger Spirit Award were won by the class of '73.

The health and office monitors joined together to form Service Club. This club was sponsored by Mrs. Louise Grantham, Counselor, and Mrs. Myrna Sauer, school nurse. Officers were President Sandy Chambers and Secretary-treasurer Pat Dixon. Remarkably this club functioned without the aid of dues or a constitution. It was a title—Service Club—given to monitors helping the school.

Ushers organized themselves to keep the basketball games in order. Helping keep score, recovering lost items under the bleachers and passing out programs were jobs which kept the ushers busy.

USHERS—ROW 1: Randy Cain, Rick Baker, Don Watson. ROW 2: Toby Legg, Mike Watkins.

BUCS BOP BIRDS; FALL TO INJUNS

The 1973 version of the MH basketball squad had a tough tourney act to follow after the 1972 team had been a member of the Final Four. The Corsair crew met Frankton in the first game to start Sectional action. The roundballers easily clipped the Eagles' wings with a 77-48 triumph. In the semi-final round, the Bucs had a rematch with the Aborigines of Anderson. Plagued by fouls, poor shooting, and errors, the high expectations of the Pirates fell as Anderson raced to an early lead and defeated Buck's young basketballers 113-56. The tourney twelve consisted of senior Larry Buck, juniors Randy Bledsoe, Mike Faulker, Charlie Hubler, Harry Morgan, Don Pitman, Elroy Robinson, Jim Thomas and Odell Wilkerson and sophomores Joe Buck, David Morgan, and Steve Tweed.

In leaps and bounds the girls' gymnastics team work on their floor exercise.

New to the Indiana high school athletic program was the organization of girl's sports. Under the ruling of the IHSAA, a 20-member volleyball team, coached by Mrs. Maxine Barcus, was introduced as the first girl's sport at MH.

Facing a nine-team schedule, the volleyball team compiled a 5-4 season record. Competing in the sectional, the girls defeated Blackford, 15-13, 7-15, 16-14, and Highland, 15-3, 15-10, 15-10, to advance to the championship match against Madison-Grant. Topping the Argylls, 15-10, 15-10, the Pirates brought home the first sectional trophy and qualified to the Leo regional.

Gymnastics, selected as the winter sport, brought enthusiastic results as 111 MH'ers jockied for a position on the 33-member squad. The gymnast's events were the uneven parallel bars, balance beam, vaulting and floor exercise. To qualify for the sectional, the girl must have averaged a consistent 5.0 score out of a possible 10.0. Each team was allowed 12 contestants in the sectional. Mrs. Barcus assumed coaching responsibilities during the meets and practice sessions. Track and tennis were the selections during the spring season.

DEBATE GROUPS COMPETE

Senior Gary Cox studies for an upcoming Academic Bowl meet with the juniors.

The Debate Team this year tried to work up intramural debates. The national debate topic, "Funding of Education," was one of the many topics the debate team utilized.

Academic Bowl was composed of organized class teams. Intramural competition between classes was held and the best student from each class' team participated in matches with other area schools. Both of these organizations were under the direction of Mr. B. C. Smith.

ROW 5: Mrs. Linda Curren, Marilyn Fisher, Patty Lewis, Carolyn Durham, Lisa Cobb, Debbie Caylor, Linda Kinsey.

Future Teachers of America, sponsored by Mrs. Linda Curren, consisted of 37 members headed by President Carolyn Durham. The other officers were Vice-President Lisa Cobb, Secretary Debbie Caylor, Treasurer Marilyn Fisher and Historian Patty Lewis.

FTA organized a program of tutoring junior high students. During the year, FTA held monthly meetings at which there were scheduled speakers who informed students on various topics. For National Education Week, FTA placed apples in each teacher's mailbox. The purpose of FTA was to better inform the students of the requirements for teaching, the legal aspects, responsibilities, the job opportunities and the problems of teaching.

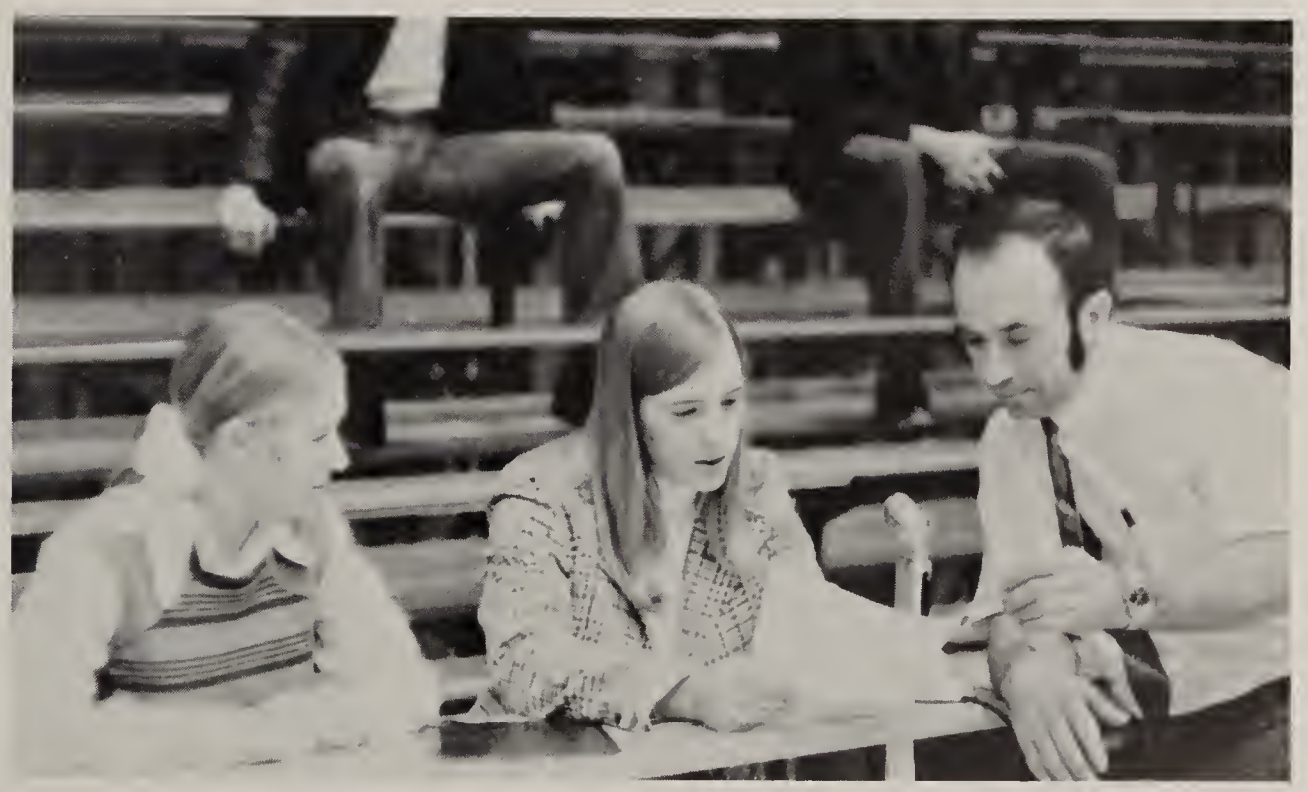
COACHES ASSISTED BY GIRLS

GYMNETTES—Marina Thomas, Marlene Hilligoss, Jane Webb, Nancy Zerkle, Beth Maddy.

Gymnettes, comprised of five girls, assisted Coach Dale Lechlitner at all home gymnastics meets. Their jobs included keeping score, announcing results and holding score cards for the judges.

Swim Coach Dave Nicholson was in charge of the Bucettes, the girls who helped at the home swim meets. Their major tasks consisted of timing, dive judging, scoring, keeping records and announcing.

Cinderellas aided at home track meets. Their duties were to hold finish lines, keep time and records, measure the long jump and aid officials in judging. They were headed by Coach Jim Jones.



Coach Lechlitner assists Jane Webb and Nancy Zerkle with gymnasts' tabulations.

Student Council members express varying degrees of interest in the meeting.

President Stephen Johnson piloted the 21-member Student Council during the '72-'73 school year with assistance from officers Dan Hubler, Marlene Hilligoss and Carol Fox. All four officers attended a week-long Student Leadership Institute at Indiana University learning individual duties, meeting procedures and fund-raising ideas.

A new Student Advisory Board, voicing student problems to the administration, was initiated by the Council. Twelve members from SC and 12 students from the largest racial-ethnic minority group composed the membership.

Homecoming, a Mental Health Christmas Drive, Spring Talent Show and the Dollars for Scholars Drive were SC sponsored. Various school elections were directed by the Council.

Boasting the largest membership of a service organization again this year, Student Exchange Club sponsored German foreign exchange student Pete Pokatis, who lived with Greg Berry's family. SEC sponsored Lisa Dare's nine-week summer visit to Bourg-en-Bresse, France.

The annual Fish Fry was held prior to the Dad's Night game against Kokomo Haworth. Other activities of officers Rick Ainsworth, Ralph Ewell, Debbie Bradford, Renisa Mowery and sponsor Mr. Paul Redding were the membership drive and the annual spring Turnabout Dance.

Foreign Exchange Student Pete Pokatis enjoys his new role as an M-Club member.

During the 72-73 year, MH junior Dick Karkosky served as Pirate mascot. Displaying tumbling ability, he led the basketball team through the M-Club aisle on the home court.

Seniors Betty Henderson, Beth Maddy and Misty Ward, and juniors Linda Connelly, Joni Jay and Judy Petro served as varsity cheerleaders. The girls went to cheerleading camp at Indiana State where they received first and second places. The spirited six also placed first in the county cheerleading contest. Reserve cheerleaders Shawn Hite, Debbie Jones, Denise McClarnon, Maria Paternoster and Bobbe Wagner led yells for the junior-varsity football and basketball teams. With help from the gymnastics team, the sophomore girls improved on acrobatic ability. Both squads innovated new mounts and added novel chants and cheers to MH's repertoire. For the first year, Mrs. Rosemary Ring had the task of sponsoring the eleven enthusiastic gals.

NEW JUMPSUITS ALTER PEP CLUB

Pep Club had a new look this year with new scarlet jumpsuits and black body shirts. Mrs. Pat Dent and Mrs. Rosemary Ring were the sponsors of this 212-member club. These Pirate backers attended all Madison Heights home games and traveled to Anderson High's Wigwam for the tourney.

MH license plates were sold for Pep Club's money-making project. A change in procedure also marked a new look in the MH Pep Club. This year there were no substitutes for girls who could not attend a game. The officers that guided Pep Club were Nancy Todd, president; Carolyn Trueblood, vice-president; Cindy Clendenen, secretary and Pam Besett, sergeant-at-arms.

At the noon hour, Pep Club officers sell license plates to proud Pirates.

McLAUGHLIN LEADS M-CLUB

M-Club members line up the "aisle" for the basketball team before a game.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes, directed by Officers Tom Koester, Mike Ginder, Tom Mann and sponsor Mr. Jim Jones began activities by organizing a semi-pro benefit basketball game to finance the attendance of members to the national FCA summer camp. Guest speakers, meeting with the club, discussed personal encounters relating to an athletic and Christian life.

Enthusiastically backing the basketball team at home games in their organized block served as M-Club's primary activity. Elected in the spring of their junior year at the annual M-Club dance, officers Dan McLaughlin, Larry Buck, Gary Green, Dave Wells and Steve Krieg presided over meetings. Mr. Tom Bruin acquired the position of club sponsor.

HATHCOAT LEADS HONORARY

The MH chapter of Quill and Scroll was led by President Lisa Hathcoat, Vice-President Miriam Dill and Secretary-Treasurer Jinger Atteberry. Membership in the national journalism honorary was granted to any student who had served one year on one of the three literary publications. They were also required to be ranked in the upper third of their class. The induction ceremony for the 1972-73 year was held in the Home Economics lounge in April. The new members received a membership pin and card, and four issues of a journalism magazine. Buccaneer sponsor Mrs. Carole Cooke, Treasure Chest sponsor Mrs. Ann Smith and Jolly Roger sponsor Mr. Ed Roettinger directed the club.

BANQUET HONORS SENIOR MEMBERS

At a May candlelight ceremony, 32 new members were inducted into the National Honor Society while parents and friends watched. The members later attended a banquet at Hagerstown honoring the graduating seniors. These students will have the honor of wearing gold tassels on their graduation caps. The requirements to belong to this national organization were 3.4 cumulative grade average, 3.0 personality ratings and no failing marks.

Mrs. Patsy Worrell, Dean of Girls, was the sponsor for Honor Society. The group was lead by Jim Hudson, president; Bob Bassett, vice president; Debbie Bradford, secretary; and Sue Ann Snyder, treasurer.

Debbie Caylor takes part in the traditional lighting of candles at induction.

JR STRIVES FOR TOP PIRATE NEWS

Dick Utley reads a section of a Jolly Roger to an enthusiastic teddy bear.

Vocational Graphic Arts student Elroy Robinson lays out the next JR issue.

The Anderson Area Vocational School published the six-page biweekly Jolly Roger this year. Mr. Ed Roettinger sponsored the JR with Miriam Dill and Debbie Carrace co-editing for the first semester. Cindy Staley and Jeff Evans co-edited during the second semester.

Work on the JR staff began with first-semester newswriting, and then a sequence of five one-semester journalism courses. News editors, editorial page editors, feature editors, sports editors and sixth-page editors comprised the staff of the school paper. Filling these positions were Cindy Staley, Randy West, Lisa Hathcoat, Nancy Williams, Jama Anson, Tim Carwile, Dick Utley, Jeff Evans, Jinger Attebury and Mary Mauger.

The Buccaneer staff, supervised by Mrs. Carole Cooke, consisted of two separate ten-member staffs, one appointed in the fall and the other in the spring. These students worked on the Buccaneer as a semester project for creative writing class. The Buccaneer consisted of short stories, poems and essays.

This year there were more entries than in previous years. It was open to all MHer's but most entries came from creative writing students.

Instead of sending the book to a professional printer it was printed at Madison Heights. Hand-painted covers livened up the fall issue, while the larger spring edition was spiral-bound.

The 26-member staff was headed by Patty Lewis and Nancy Weatherford as co-editors. With the general theme of "Tradition Changes" the various staffs were kept busy during homeroom periods.

The newest addition to the TC staff was the position of index editor, filled by Nancy Harber. Sharon Roche headed the layout staff in preparing the layouts for each page. Carolyn Durham as copy editor assisted the copy staff in writing copy for the annual. Picture editor Lourdes Leyva was hurried getting pictures for each deadline. Dan Hubler supervised the sports staff in recording the sporting events during the 1972-73 school year. Business editor Ron Ledbetter was in charge of managing the finances and keeping the necessary records for the yearbook.

The planned production of Arsenic and Old Lace was cancelled due to the students' lack of interest. The eighty drama club members elected Marianne McKelvey to head the theatrical group and Terri Huffer as vice-president to assist her in her duties. Secretary Jill Greenberg, Martha Baker, treasurer, and Lisa Dare, historian, filled the remaining officers positions. The possibility for a drama class for next year was discussed by the English Department. The department felt that this type of class would bring more interest and enthusiasm from the students.

ORIENTAL THEME FEATURED

A beaming Joni Skiles anxiously awaits the prom queen election on May first.

Judy Petro wishfully contemplates on her chances to be the 1973 Prom Queen.

Dana Welker smiles radiantly after being chosen as a prom queen candidate.

"Oriental Gardens" was the theme decided on for the 1973 Junior-Senior Prom. The gala event was held on Friday May 11, from 9 to 12 p.m.

Chairmen of the Prom were Juniors Candy Carpenter and Joni Skiles. Spirited juniors worked on the decoration committee, the band committee, prom queen committee, refreshment committee and the chaperone committee.

This year's selection of queen was different from that of previous years. One delegate was nominated from each homeroom and then junior boys voted to narrow the field to three girls. Then the final voting was held May 1. The three girls in contention for Prom Queen were Judy Petro, Joni Skiles and Dana Welker.

TITRADITION CCHANGES

IN ACADEMICS

In the field of academics tradition changed with the announcement that there would be no PE assistants. The Marching Band of Pirates placed ninth at the State Fair Band Day Contest, where only a year before MH was in twentieth place. The drum majors sported new outfits of red jackets and white trousers and carried swords. The choir tradition changed as the Madrigals formed, wearing medieval costume. Students could take the newly innovated course, Creative Writing. The history department added an inquiry class to the curriculum; World History 1.5.

Sophomore Jeff Bowen displays his new squirrel friend to a physiology class.

Aquariums, distillation apparatus, binocular dissecting microscopes and drosophola culture equipment were new additions to the Science Department this year. Alcohol, Tobacco and Narcotics, Zoology and Physics were among the wide range of courses offered. College-bound students with an aptitude in math tackled Honors Chemistry, while those pursuing health careers delved into the realms of Honors Physiological Biology. Field trips helped young ecologists to better understand the reality of ecological relationships in a scientific light. Comparing human body parts to those of animals aided Physiology and Anatomy students in the study of the human system. Teachers put emphasis on more experimental work in class.

CREATIVE WRITING DEMANDS TALENT

Scheida Burgess demonstrates the varied techniques of an informative speech.

A new addition to the Language Arts Department was Creative Writing. This course was created for those who performed well in previous English classes and had great interest in writing. It was designed to teach the students to develop plots, settings and characters. The students were given the freedom to use their talents in writing plays, poems and stories. The staff members of the Buccaneer were chosen from the Creative Writing class this year. An integral part of the Language Arts Department was the Reading Lab. Its main objective was to help improve reading rate, comprehension and vocabulary.

English 12, Contemporary Literature, Composition and Honors Composition were classes offered especially to the seniors. Many students participated in Speech I, II, III and Journalism. Spanish, German and French were offered to those interested in a foreign language.

VISIONS BECOME REALITY

Senior art student Diane Johnson tries to visualize an idea for a drawing.

The Madison Heights Art Department, under the direction of Mr. John Riley, offered a wide variety of projects for students to work with. While Art I students mostly studied the basic fundamentals, students in the advanced courses showed originality by choosing individual projects such as sculpturing. A great many of the students worked with watercolors, oil paintings and basic drawings, while some concentrated talents in areas such as clay projects and poster-making.

BAND JOINS "SWEET SIXTEEN"

The Marching Band of Pirates returned to the "sweet sixteen" in the State Fair Band Contest by capturing ninth place. Drum Majors Jim Hudson and Jeff Burkhardt, outfitted in new uniforms and sabres, led the 140 musicians in a rendition of "Victory at Sea." During the summer, bandsmen, under the careful direction of James C. "Sugar Bear" Patton, practiced mornings, afternoons and evenings. At home football games, the band entertained fans at halftime with music especially arranged for MH. Band Boosters held a chili supper in the fall to help raise funds.

Mr. Floyd Hurst familiarized orchestra students with symphonic literature. The 45-member ensemble accompanied the "Messiah" and participated in the Solo-Ensemble Contest at Ball State.

Calculus student Ros Keith points out a solution to Department Head Mr. Wann.

This year the Madison Heights Mathematics Department, headed by Area Math Supervisor Mr. Maurice Wann, initiated a change in the Algebra IV course. For the first time, a mini slide rule course was taught during the second semester. The objective was to teach students the basic fundamentals in the use of the slide rule.

Math courses ranged from Basic Algebra I to the Honors Calculus course which attracted thirteen scholars. In the Honors course an A or B grade earned one additional point. During this year 62 students participated in the Five Year Math Course which was designed to offer an accelerated Math program. Courses in Basic Algebra I through IV, Geometry, Trigonometry and Advanced Algebra continued to be offered by the department.

Concert Choir, headed by Mr. D. William Frame, received a Superior Rating First Division at the State Choir Contest in April. The choir consisted of sixty members. The biggest performance the MH's Concert Choir had was "Messiah"—at the First Methodist Church with Highland High School's Choir and the Madison Heights Orchestra. The Concert Choir also presented the Singing Christmas Tree for the sixth time. It performed at the Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter Convos and gave a special Christmas Convocation for the parents. The president of Concert Choir was Emilio Levya.

The Girl's Chorus consisted of all sophomores. Their main performances were at nursing homes, hospitals and service clubs. The president was Tonya Fischvogt.

There were several new additions to the Industrial Arts Department in the '72-'73 school year. A new plastics course was started by Mr. Lechlitner. New two-hour classes for beginning Industrial Arts students were formed. This was the first year for the division of advanced and general classes. A new dust collecting system was put into use in the Woodworking room.

The department consisted of drafting, architectural drafting, metal work and power. Mr. Harold Thompson was the Industrial Arts Department Head.

The woodworking classes specialized in veneer lamination and sculpturing, while power classes were concerned with air, land, and water uses.

BUCS GO TO AAVS COURSES

Every morning and afternoon 188 students from MH traveled to the Anderson Area Vocational school. The students transferred to the school by car or school bus. The school was open to the three community high schools and any interested adults in the Anderson District. The school offered a variety of courses for the students to pursue. These courses ranged from Automotive Repair and Data Processing, to Secretarial Science and Printing. The students at MH completed state-required classes in addition to attending the Anderson Area Vocational and Technical School.

HOME ECONOMICS CARPETS LOUNGE

Senior Patty Lewis gives a report on child discipline in Child Development.

Alicia McCarroll studies the cooking instructions for preparing a casserole.

Sophomore Margaret English holds a cute little baby in Child Development.

Future Homemakers of America, a national organization, was organized this year for any sophomore, junior or senior girl who had completed a home economics course. Mrs. Jane Gwinn, head of the department, sponsored MH's group, which consisted of thirty girls specializing in home economics. Madison Heights was represented by these girls who were active in the state and district contests, presenting skits and displaying charitable projects.

One of the three changes this year was the new name of Consumer Homemaking Education for the department. The sophomore girls were required to take Consumer Education and Interpersonal Relations to have a major or minor in home economics under the new curriculum. New equipment was added to the department. End tables and carpet helped the appearance of the home ec lounge and an office was made out of a spare room.

SOPHS ENJOY PE ACTIVITIES

Mrs. Maxine Barcus instructed the junior and senior girls in noon activities that consisted of bowling at Olympia Lanes, tennis at Fairview Park, miniature golf at Putt-Putt and ice and roller skating. The sophomore girls in the PE classes participated in flag football, field hockey, net games, deck tennis, mat tumbling, apparatus and gymnastics.

The boys' PE classes were directed by Mr. John Horevay, the Department Head. He instructed them in basketball, soccer, wrestling and football. The boys' noon activities consisted of bowling at Cooper's Sport Bowl and tennis at Fairview Park.

Students of safety learned to be aware of the kinds of accidents there are and how to prevent them. The pupils were taught the Red Cross first aid procedures. In class, students gave demonstrations on bandaging and artificial respiration.

MH remained one of the few schools to still offer driver's education during the regular school year. The department had access to five cars, but normally only four were in use during class time. Each instructor had at least twelve students a period. Students used a magnetic board to demonstrate situations which had occurred on the road.

Glen Adams works to improve driving skills by practicing testing brake reaction time.

BUSINESS ADDS NEW EQUIPMENT

Under the direction of Mrs. June Creed, two new courses, Business Communications and Office Procedures were added to the MH curriculum, and the Business Department replaced the three semesters of typing with four. The overhead projector, electric and manual typewriters, adding machines, electronic calculator and tables and chairs were new equipment that the department received.

The department offered four specialized programs: Accounting, Clerical, Retailing and Secretarial, while Data Processing was available at the area vocational school. In addition to these courses, the department offered activities and units of instruction designed to meet the needs of pupils who wanted to develop marketable skills and secure employment without higher education. Students who had a major in business education could join Future Secretaries.

TITRADITION CCCHANGES

IN SPORTS

The cross country two-mile run changed to the two and a half-mile run. The football team brought the traveling trophy to MH by defeating the Indians for only the third time. Corsair roundballers didn't want to change the winning tradition that had been established before them. Tradition changed when the swim team dropped Anderson from the schedule. For the first time in track, the discus and the triple-jump events counted in the team scores. The baseball squad didn't want to relinquish MH's dominance of the IHSAA Baseball Sectional.

PIRATES RATE HIGH IN CONFERENCE

Olympic Conference Medalist senior Dan Hubler paces himself through Mounds Park.

Madison Heights, challenging Kokomo Haworth, Muncie South and Muncie North in the Olympic Conference battle for the '71-72 All Sports Trophy, proved to be a strong contender as the Pirate athletes earned a second-place finish with 22 points. Haworth's 33 points won the conference honor as South and North tied with 18½ points each. Points were awarded on a 1-4 basis with the winning team receiving four points.

During the '72-73 sports season, gridiron men Dan McLaughlin, Joe Minnick, Steve Krieg, Elroy Robinson, Tim Welker and Kevin Lucas achieved All-Conference distinction. Dan Hubler again won the championship in cross country with a 12:40 winning time.

Team victories in the conference were weak as wrestling, tennis, basketball and cross country finished fourth, swimming third and football second.

Sparked by three-year varsity competitor Steve Crandall, an expected point winner in six events each meet, the 1972 Cindermen compiled a 3-win, 3-loss record. Individual performances from Dave Clark in the 880-yard dash, Greg Harber in the high hurdles, Elroy Robinson in the sprints and dashes, and Dan Hubler in the 2-mile run provided wide scoring depth for Coach Jim Jones and Assistant Coaches Steve Rybolt, John Herevay and Bill Coggins.

In the Sectional the Pirates placed third over a field of 23 teams. The mile relay team of senior Clark, junior Kevin Lucas, sophomore Robinson, and freshman Joe Buck sprinted to a first-place record breaking time of 3:26.4.

Six competitors in four events qualified for the Regional where Crandall's efforts advanced him to the ISHAA State track finals.

A "rags to riches" story was created by the 1972 diamondmen. After compiling a disappointing 4-19 season record, the young baseballers walked off with MH's third straight sectional crown, the fourth in six years.

The team was led by lone senior Steve Porter and juniors Larry Buck, Greg Roof, Tim Welker and Dave Wells. Sophomores Stan Sauerwein, Alan Jones, and Craig Walker were brought from the reserves.

The inexperienced team placed fourth in the Olympic Conference with an 0-6 record. Not until the end of regular season play did the baseballers begin to "get it together." Coaches Paul Bradford and Jim Sutton had the team primed for the first Sectional game against Alexandria, and came away victors with an 8-5 win in nine innings. Tim Welker pitched a shutout and teammates produced four runs to hand Elwood a 4-0 loss. With a fine hitting attack and the poised pitching of sophomore Craig Walker, MH smashed the Indian ego with a come-from-behind 10-9 victory in eight innings.

Avenging an early-season loss, the batmen handed Noblesville a 2-0 defeat led by the pitching of Tim Welker. In the regional championship game, Kokomo defeated the Bucs 6-5.

With nine returning lettermen and members from a reserve squad that compiled a respectable 7-12 record, MH anticipates a fourth straight sectional crown.

Anticipating a bunt, baseballer Greg Roof charges down the third base line.

Coach Bob Humphrey carried most of the season with a Joe Jessup, Jeff Akers, and Mike Lewis trio, with added help from Steve Granger, Steve Brown and Dennis Bush. According to Coach Humphrey, Jessup and Lewis were two most consistent golfers and Akers was surprise strength in winning the Olympic Conference Medal.

The '72 harriers entered the season with an additional one-half mile added to the previous two-mile distance. The Pirates came out of the season with a 4-6 mark. The thinlies had a fourth-place finish in the Olympic Conference, however, senior Dan Hubler captured first-place individual honors again for the second consecutive year. Hubler also initiated the new school record for the 2½-mile run. The team came back to capture sixth place out of 27 teams in the Pendleton Sectional. Hubler finished fourth qualifying for the Richmond Regional.

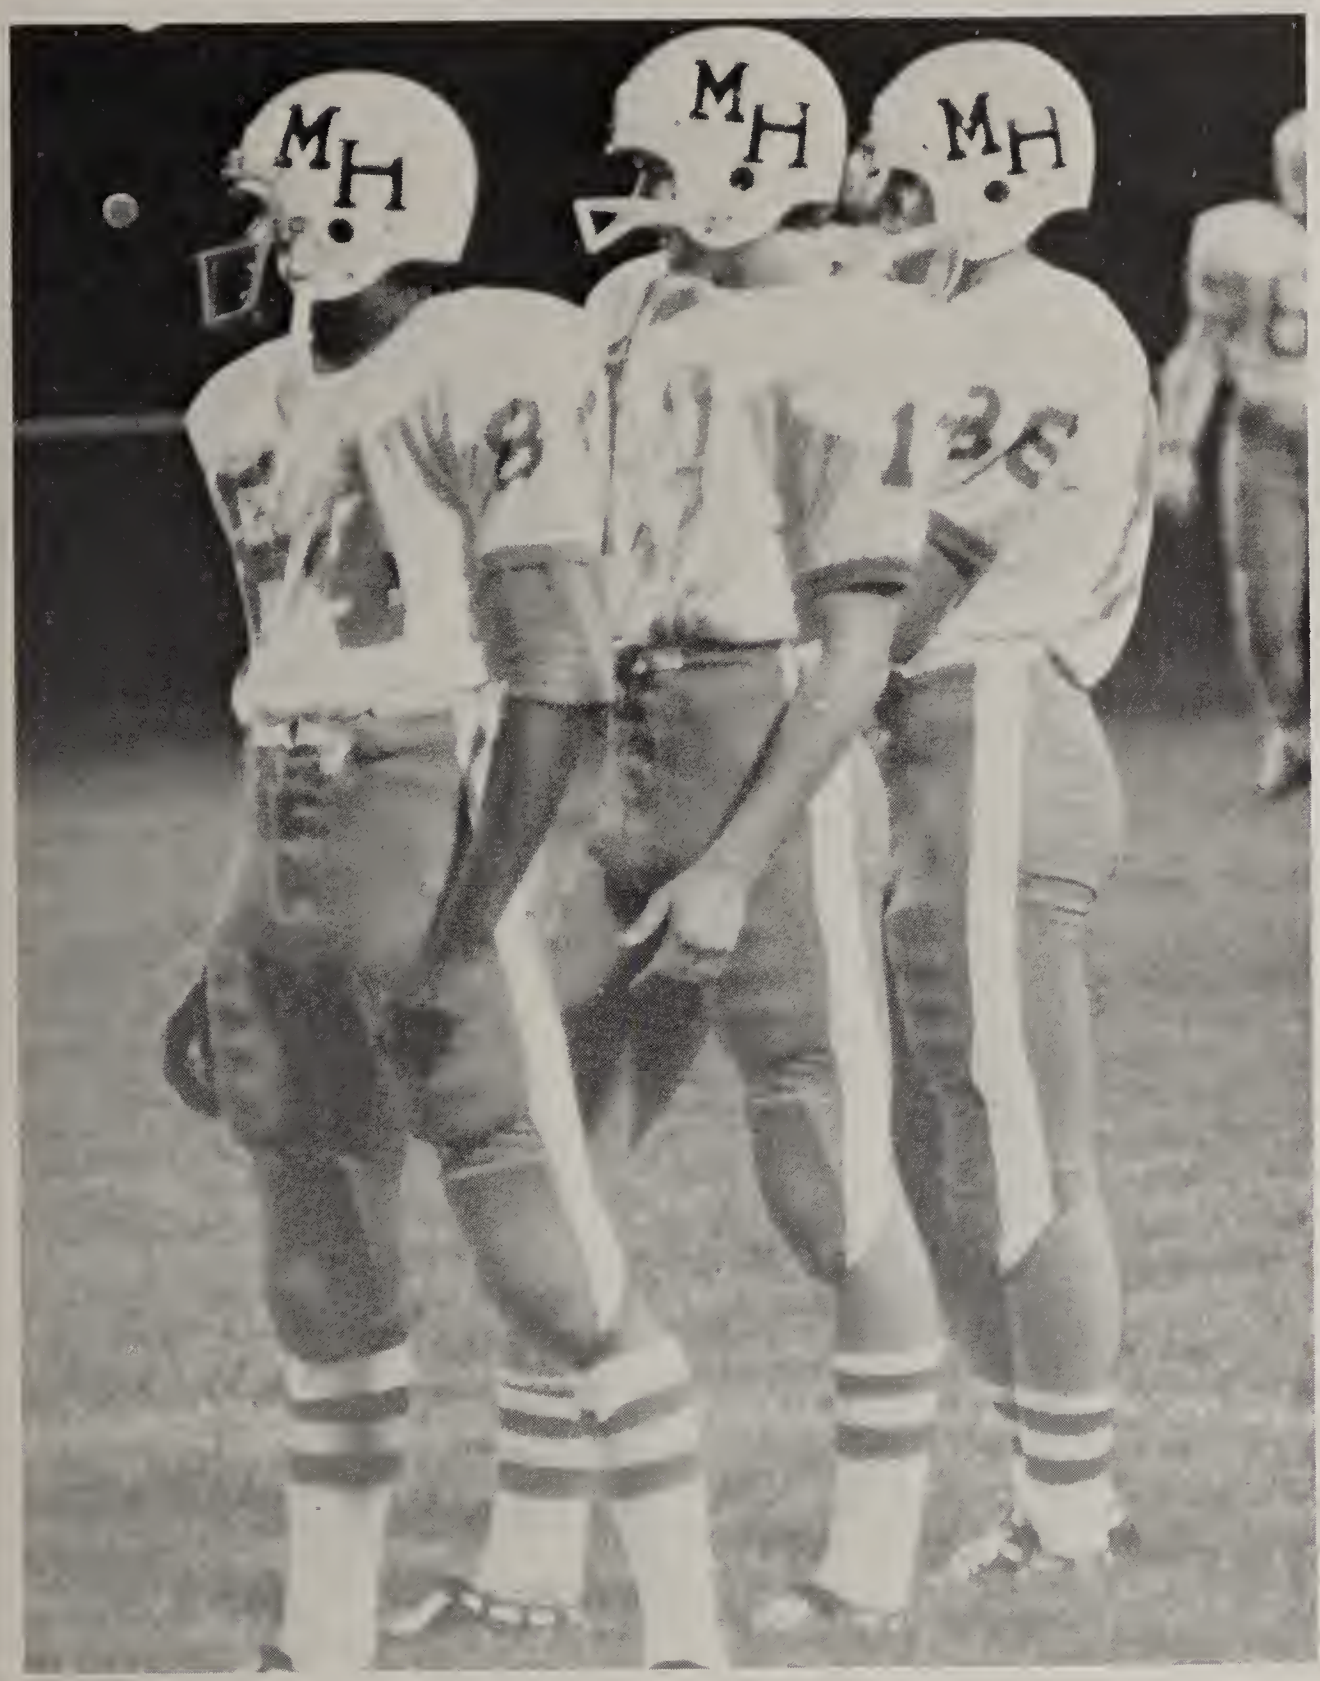
The stalwart stance of these three senior gridmen shows winning desire.



A Pirate defensive man lunges forward and pounces on an Indian ball carrier.

Playing the toughest schedule in Madison Heights' seventeen year existence, the 1972 Pirate gridmen compiled a 6-4 season slate. State powers Marion and Brebeuf, Lawrence Central and Olympic Conference rival Muncie North were the only teams that could halt the offensive attack.

The offense was led by senior quarterback Joe Minnick, whose prime receivers were Larry Buck and Dave Wells. Junior running back Elroy Robinson led the team in rushing and Elroy was also the Pirates' leading scorer. Also carrying a brunt of the rushing attack were juniors Randy Bledsoe and Don Pitman.

The defensive unit held the opponent scoreless four times and allowed two other foes just one touchdown. Middle line-backer Kevin Lucas and tackles Tim Welker and Steve Krieg often took the adversary to the turf with a thundering crash. Seniors Mike Turck and Dan McLaughlin came around from the end position to stop many a quarterback and running back. Coming up with key interceptions were defensive backs, Dave Wells, Elroy Robinson and Larry Buck.

The speciality team's attacks were led by senior Tom Koester. The Pirates extra points and field goals were provided for by German foreign exchange student Peter Pokatis, with a soccer style kick. Leading the star chart were Tom Koester and Mike Turck, with outstanding effort as being one of the eight ways to earn a star.

The new overtime rule proved most helpful to the Buc gridmen as MH defeated Shelbyville 12-6 in an overtime. After being beaten two straight weeks, Pirate pent-up frustrations were taken out on Muncie South, as the Rebels fell 36-0. The highlight of the season was the rout of cross-town rival Anderson. For only the third time, the MH football squad brought the bronze football trophy to the hallowed halls of Madison Heights. The Pirates whitewashed the Indians 7-0. The Bucs stunned the Tech Titans with a field goal by Pokatis with no time remaining. The first three point attempt had fallen short of the uprights, but the Titans were offsides, and MH got another chance. The end result was a 9-6 Pirate triumph.

Senior Larry Saubert practices up on the even parallel bars prior to competition.

With only three returning lettermen, the 1973 gymnastics team compiled a 6-win-7-loss record in a rebuilding season. This year the gymnasts passed a milestone in that the final meet this season marked the 100th victory for the MH gymnastics program. One high point this past season was the team's sixth-place finish at the Concord Invitational.

Despite the loss of several lettermen this season, the gymnastics team managed to hold its own in the Wabash Sectional, capturing fourth place and qualifying four gymnasts for the state meet. Juniors Rick Stanley and Scott Allen, senior Larry Saubert and sophomore Paul Moran qualified for the state meet by placing in the top five in the sectional.

Toppling both Muncie South and Muncie Central, the Pirate tankmen filled out their four wins by downing Hagerstown and Yorktown. The Pirate swimmers were a surprising threat to Noblesville, New Castle, Marion, Shelbyville and Pendleton Heights, losing by breathtakingly close scores to all five teams.

Records garnered this year were again dominated by juniors Rick Cates and John Wise. Cates took his own record in 1-meter diving while Wise lowered his own breaststroke record. Coach Buck's team recorded wins over long-time foes Noblesville, Highland, Elwood, Pendleton Heights, Alex, and Muncie Central. A moral victory was the near upset of state-ranked Anderson. The Buc brigade closed the home season with a victory over Greenfield Central.

Junior center Harry Morgan led the team in scoring and rebounding. Soph Joe Buck served as the squad's floor general. Outside shooting threat Jim Thomas performed at the other guard position. Jumping Elroy Robinson and steady-playing Randy Bledsoe executed the forward spots. Odell Wilkerson played at the guard or forward position.

With Coaches Sutton and Good at the helm, the Pirate reserves won more games than any previous MH reserve squad. High flying O.D. Wilkerson adds two to the score with a turn-around lay-up.

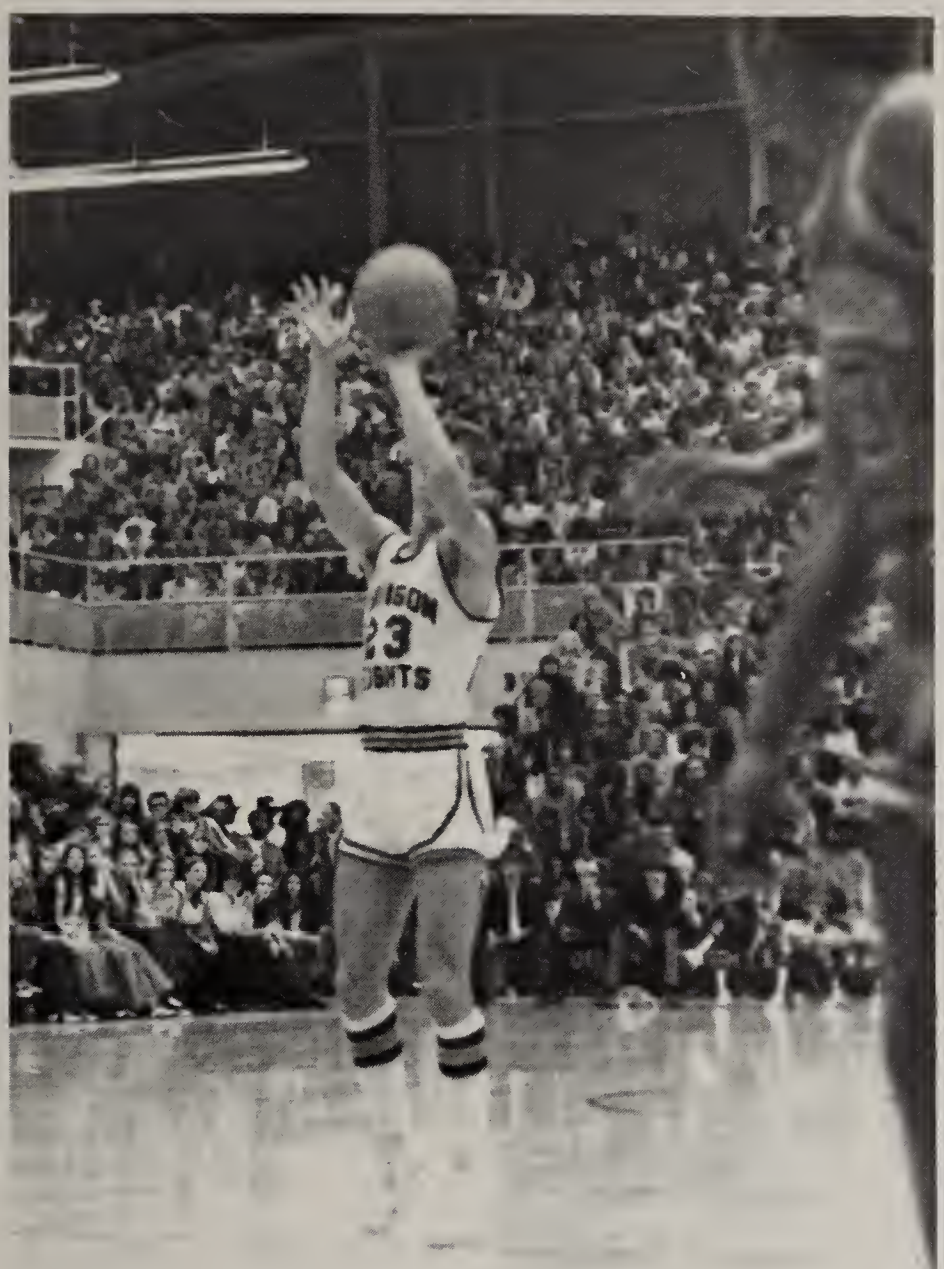
An MH "security blanket" comforts Charlie Hubler after vigorous ball playing.

Attempting to hit a crucial free throw, Joe Buck aims the ball toward the hoop.



Junior Harry Morgan jockies for position against a Fort Wayne opponent.

Sophomore Steve Tweed executes a pattern in anticipation of a down-court pass.

Kurt Moreillion steps lightly as Mr. Good searches for a lost contact lens.

MH ATHLETES ATTAIN RECOGNITION

Mike Boards reminisces the season which led him to the state in wrestling.

Harry Morgan is the first junior to be chosen the county's MVP in basketball.

This year's Football Hustle Award went to seniors Mike Turck and Tom Koester.

Terry Hartman's smile reflects pride in receiving the Ben Howe tennis award.

Cross country runner Dan Hubler was honored at the fall awards convo for setting a new 2½-mile record. Football Coach Tom Bruin awarded Tom Koester and Mike Turck the Star Award and announced that senior Joe Minnick would quarter-back the South All-Star team. Foreign exchange student Pete Pokatis was awarded a helmet and football for his outstanding job as a place kicker. This year's Ben Howe award in tennis went to junior Terry Hartman.

Winter sports awarded senior Jeff Gale Outstanding Swimmer and Rick Ainsworth Special Senior Award for their efforts in swimming. Wrestling Coach Fred Lamb revealed a three-way tie for the Most Pin trophy among seniors Mike Boards and Steve Hampton and sophomore Gary Sutton. Boards also qualified for state competition. Basketball awards went to junior Harry Morgan for M.V.P. and for rebounding and to sophomore Joe Buck for his free-throws.

COUNTY SECTIONAL CHAMPIONS—Michael Boards, Randy Safford, and Darryl Caudill.

TRADITION CHANGES

IN PEOPLE

Saddle shoes were worn for the first time in a decade by senior high girls. Girls wearing smock tops and jeans were seen in the halls everyday. The senior class elected the first long-haired class president of MH, and the student body elected MH's first black student council president. Tradition saw a change as a female at MH worked as a gas station attendant. Many seniors attended school for only a half-day, and worked at jobs the remainder of the day.

ROBERT BASSETT IS VALEDICTORIAN

VALEDICTORIAN—Bob Bassett. SALUTATORIAN—Susie Cunningham.

DAR and Betty Crocker Award winner senior Terri Boram prepares a "spot of tea."

SENIOR TOP TEN—ROW 1: Greg Chaney, Janet Brooks, Marilyn Fisher, Rick Ledbetter. ROW 2: Nancy Weatherford, Sue Ann Snyder, Becky Tooley. ROW 3: Susan Cunningham, Bob Bassett.

Bob Bassett and Susan Cunningham reigned as Valedictorian and Salutatorian. Marilyn Fischer, Barbara Heritz, Greg Chaney, Sue Ann Snyder, Nancy Weatherford, Janet Brooks, Ginger Whittaker, Rick Ledbetter and Becky Tooley rounded out the top ten for the class of '73.

Debbie Bradford, Leslee Keys and Ginger Whittaker attended Girl's State at Indiana University. Rick Ainsworth, Dan Hubler, Tim Carwile, Larry Hines and Bob Bassett attended the mock governmental sessions at Boy's State at Indiana State.

For the first time in the history of Madison Heights, one student, Teresa Boram, won both the 1973 DAR Award and the Betty Crocker Award. The Arion Award went to senior Debbie Caylor for her outstanding contribution to the music program of Madison Heights.

BOY'S STATE—Rick Ainsworth, Dan Hubler, Bob Bassett, Larry Hines, Tim Carwile.

KLUESNER HEADS THE 1973 CLASS

An uncomfortable Joe Jaynes intently observes Nurse Sauer's innoculation style.

The class of 1973 was led through its final school year by class officers President Pat Kluesner, Vice-President Gary Cox, Secretary Terri Barnard and Treasurer Nancy Garrett. To finance class activities throughout the year, the upperclassmen worked the concessions at the home field, making a profit of $1,000.

Mint green and forest green were the colors worn by the class during the graduation ceremonies while the stage was decorated with bells of Ireland, the class flower. The class motto was "In youth we learn; in age we understand."

Senior Phil Blakely pledges his support by joining the Young Democrat's Party.

IN MEMORIAM

On Thursday, November 30, 1972, Madison Heights lost a smiling face and a great player. Tim Welker lived for 18 years, living every day to its fullest. Tim, known affectionately as "Bud" by many of his friends, was active in sports. This past football season, he was named to the "all-city," "all-county" and "all-conference" football squads. He was the recipient of numerous sports awards, one of which was an M-Club jacket, which he received for lettering in football, basketball and baseball. Tim taught us at MHHS to live for today, and although he has ceased to exist in body, he still lives on in spirit and in our hearts.

Foreign Exchange Student Pete Pokatis devours a piece of cake at a TC party.

Treasure Chest Queen candidates join Pep Club in singing the school song.

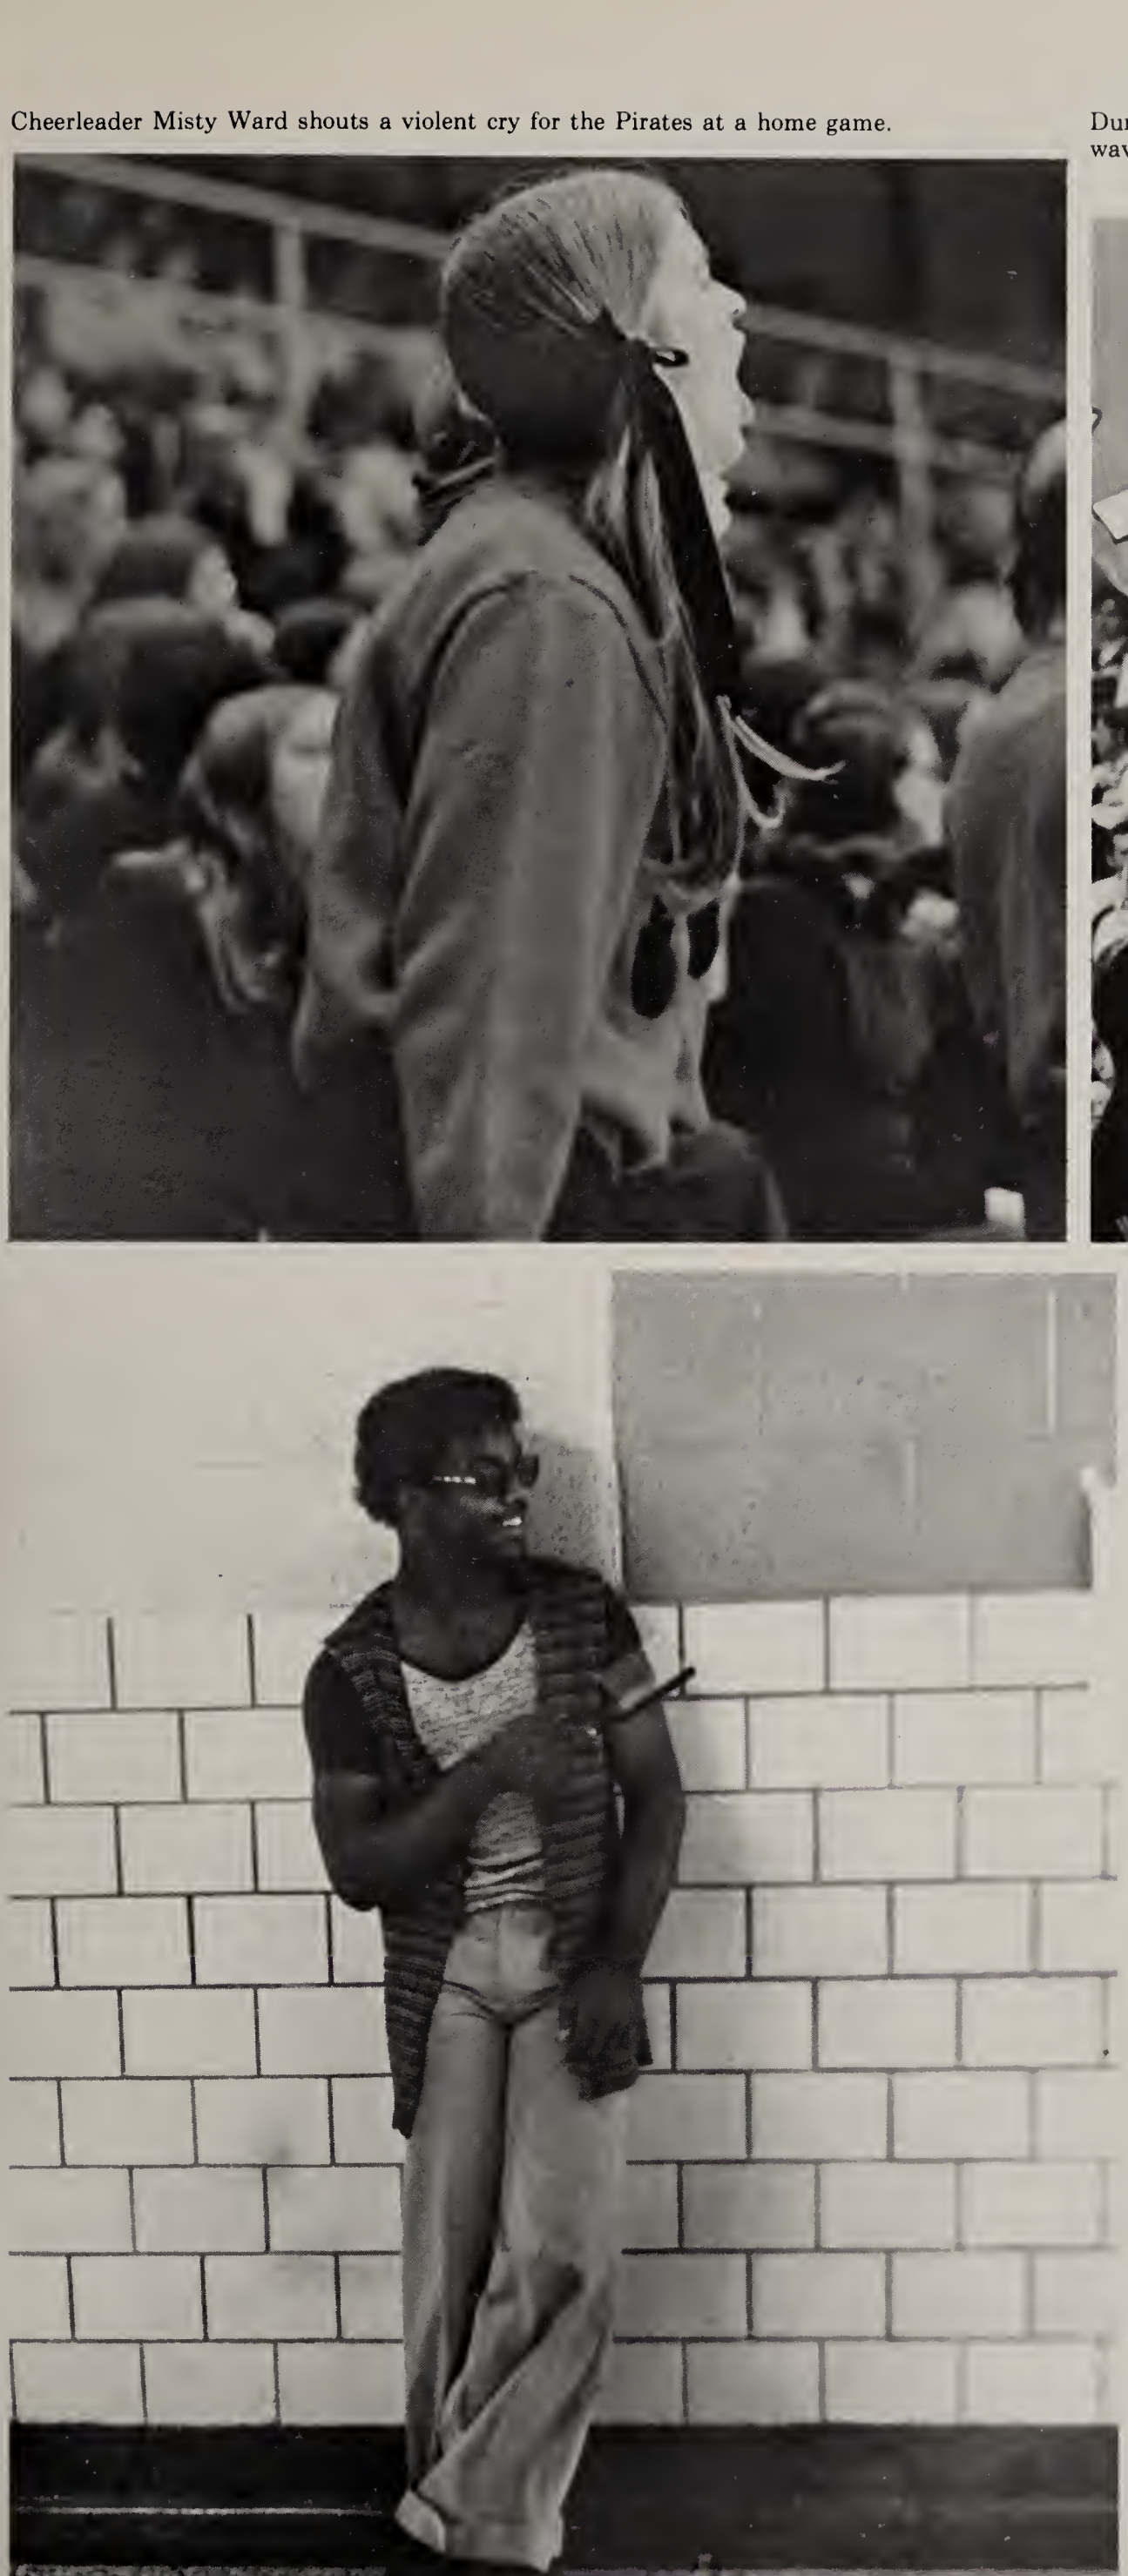
During half-time, senior band members begin waving the banner for the Pirates.

Relaxing in the upper lobby, Michael Boards waves a smiling hello to a friend.



A regular pep session attraction, the Pirate Girls swing to chants of the '40s.

HUBLER LEADS '74 BUCS

The '74 juniors were guided throughout the year by President Charlie Hubler, Vice-President Tim Trueblood, Secretary Loretta Givens, Treasurer Nancy Harber and class sponsor Maurice Wright. The Homecoming festivities were the first of many activities. The junior class entered four homeroom floats. The junior candidate for Homecoming Queen, Joni Skiles, won the regal honors.

The next activity of the enthusiastic juniors was the annual task of selling basketball concessions. A group of 41 juniors anxiously took on the job of providing fans with refreshments. The profits made from concessions were used to sponsor the annual Junior-Senior Prom.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS—Nancy Harber, treasurer; Tim Trueblood, vice-president; Charlie Hubler, president; Loretta Givens, secretary.

Junior Vicki Wooldridge characterizes a Southern slave in history class.

Kirk Ray takes time during the noon hour rush for some solitary meditation.

IN MEMORIAM:

Barry Howerton was a 16 year-old junior at Madison Heights High School. He died Wednesday evening, November 15, after sustaining injuries in an auto accident. Barry was an honor roll student during the first six weeks. He enjoyed swimming and working on cars.

DOLENSKI HEADS '75 CLASS

Sophomores soon get into the routine of changing classes when a bell rings.

Tom Niccum and Jeff Butler discuss their Purdue Legislative Assembly trip.

Larger surroundings, crowded halls and new faces confronted sophomores upon entering high school. 569 freshmen from Southside and Madison Heights Junior Highs united to form the Class of '75. Early in the year, sophs selected Student Council representatives and Executive Council members, along with class officers. David Dolenski, Jeff Baker, Jama Hensley and Linda Pierce filled the offices of president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer respectively. Herff Jones handled the sale of class rings, which students received before Christmas. "Hansel and Gretel" was the theme for the underclassmen's Homecoming float. Mr. Jeff Seulean served as class sponsor.

Confidence-filled sophomore Student Council nominee Rod Richey takes a bow.

After lunch, soph Debbie Philbeck spends a quiet moment collecting her ideas.

Members of Soph Executive Council ponder over the choice of class colors.

COLLIER SERVES MH FOR 17 YEARS

SCHOOL BOARD—ROW 1: Zebedee Christian, Dorothy Jones, Evelyn Byrum, De Var Litten. ROW 2: Jack Harless, Ray Turner, Maurice Robinson, Anna Marie Gilmore, Robert Miller, Frank Van Slyke, G. E. Ebbertt.

Dean of Boys Mr. John Dull talks to Mr. Dickerson about the MH football team.

Superintendent G. E. Ebbertt, Supervisor of Secondary Education Dr. Enoch Drumm.

Mr. Collier smiles as he sets the first-place cheerleading trophy on the stage.

Dean of Girls Mrs. Patsy Worrell takes a moment to relax during her busy day.

1545 students became the main concern of the administrative staff this year. Mr. Robert Collier, a 17-year veteran of leadership at MH, headed the staff. Mr. Paul Redding, vice-principal, aided Mr. Collier in supervision of school activities. Mr. John Dull, Dean of Boys, and Mrs. Patsy Worrell, Dean of Girls, helped keep MH a disciplined institution as they handled absenteeism and student problems.

Meeting in open sessions the first and third Tuesdays of each month, the School Board devised policies for the Anderson Community School Corporation. Led by Superintendent G. E. Ebbertt, President C. De Var Litton and Vice-President Zebedee Christian, the Board negotiated contracts with the two local teachers' organizations.

Assistant Principal Mr. Redding catches up on some of the school's paper work.

OFFICE WORK NEVER CEASES

Mrs. Sauer must keep a record of all students who go to the Health Office.

Mrs. Susan Street checks the progress of season ticket sales for all sports.

Registrar Kathleen Morris keeps a record of all students' absences in a book.

Mr. Collier's secretary, Kathleen Herron, acts as operator for Madison Heights.

Bookkeeper Mrs. Lois Gill keeps an accurate record of all the school's money.

Mrs. Reasoner's expert typing skills are well appreciated in the library.

Mr. Forrest Schepper, head counselor, Mrs. Louise Grantham and Mr. Ron Beard prepared schedules and recorded students' grades and attendance. Mr. Schepper dealt with the college-bound student, answering questions about college preference and enrollment. Mrs. Grantham gave each junior the PSAT/NMSAT tests. Ninety-five percent of each counselor's time was spent answering students' questions about academic and personal problems.

Five MHHS secretaries were employed in various areas. Mrs. Gill, treasurer, kept the books, wrote checks, and recorded departmental fees. The Athletic secretary was Mrs. Street. Mr. Collier's secretary, Mrs. Herron, was also the registrar. Secretary to Mr. Redding, Mrs. Morris served as the attendance clerk. Miss Reasoner helped the librarians by assisting them in answering student requests for assistance.

Junior counselor Louise Grantham advises a junior on what subjects to take.

Department head Forrest Schepper gives the achievement tests to all juniors.

COOKS, JANITORS SERVE MH

Assisted by a staff of seven, Head Custodian John Baker worked to maintain MH. Members of the maintenance crew provided service 24 hours a day. Matron Shirley Pope worked to keep the lounge and girls' restrooms clean.

Well-rounded meals and a la carte items were prepared daily by the 20 cafeteria workers. Mrs. Etta Fisher was the cafeteria manager during the '72-'73 school year. Spaghetti, beef manhattans and tacos were favorites this year.

CUSTODIANS—Shirley Pope, Bob Sink, Jim Wilson, Oren Vaughn.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Behind the bleachers in three small rooms, the 1973 Treasure Chest was created. Twenty-five students put forth their best efforts to produce an innovative yearbook between work sessions, staff parties, and visits from our friend Myron Eldridge.

We would like to thank Mrs. Ann Smith, our advisor, for her patience and advice. We would also like to thank the administration and faculty, the athletic department, Mr. B.C. Smith, Mrs. Linda James, Cindy Staley, Pat Kline, Lisa Dare, Jeff Sparks, John Wise, Gunvids Jansons, Lawrence Krehe studio, the Marion Chronicle, R.S. Sutula studio, in Elkhart, and the Anderson Newspapers Incorporated for their time and interest.

Special thanks go to Mrs. Mildred Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. David Weatherford for their patience and understanding, and to Mrs. Kathleen Morris for her expert wrapping ability, which enabled us to mail our deadlines on time.

We would like to thank these individuals and firms for their co-operation in publishing the 1973 Treasure Chest.

Although apathy was evidenced in many facets of our lives, positive strides were made in reaction to negative circumstances. At school, indifference to one another's feelings ended in strife. This resulted in a two-day closing of school. Improvements were sought by the formation of a Parent-Teacher Council, parent patrols to supervise the halls, and an extra day at semester break so that representatives of the Office of Equal Opportunity could meet with the teachers. To accommodate student needs, the administration was increased by the addition of two deans. The Student Advisory Board was revised so that the two largest racial groups had an equal voice.

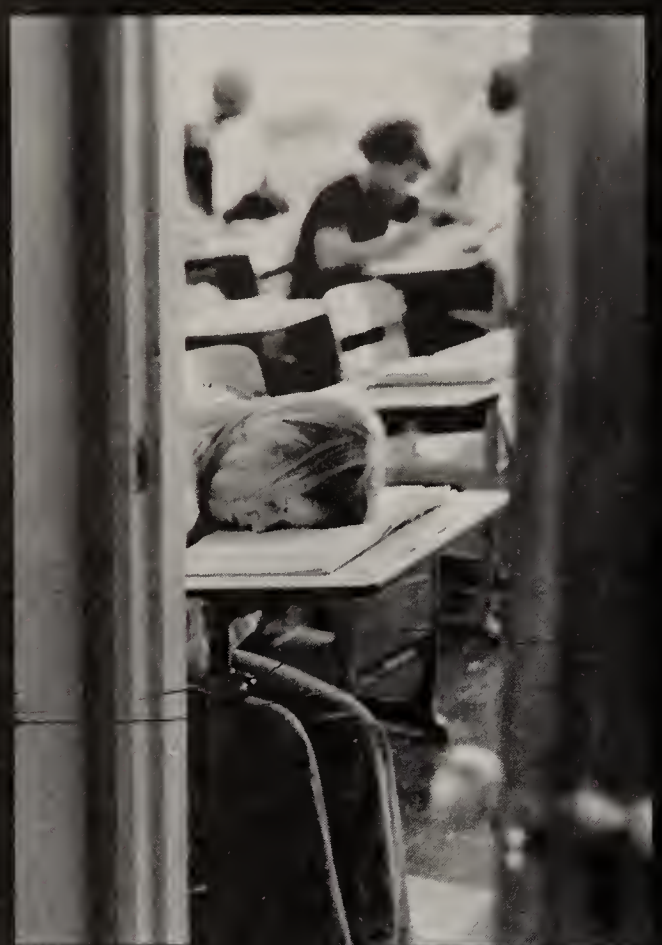
In order to meet the expanding needs of the community, buildings were constructed or enlarged. A new junior high on the northeast corner of State Road 109 and Lindberg Road was built so a decaying one could be put to rest. The YMCA made preparations to add on to its building. The "Village Pantry", "Sambo's", and "Pancake House" were just a few of the many constructions. Here at Madison Heights a teacher's lounge was converted into counseling offices to make more room for the administration. To compensate for the lost teacher's lounge upstairs, a new one was constructed in the basement. A bond issue was sponsored in the hopes that a swimming pool might be built and classrooms added.



Several drastic changes occurred. The longest war in US history came to an end with no big parade or parties. In contrast, the American citizenry greeted the returning POW's with heart-warming sincerity. With the death of Harry S. Truman and Lyndon Baines Johnson, for the first time in history, there were no living ex-presidents. The debatable issue of capital punishment was voted unconstitutional by the Supreme Court. Denizens of Indiana had to search their thoughts about such topics as abortion and the Equal Rights for Women amendment. Andersonians who seemed to sanctimoniously adhere to the state laws could be seen speeding to Ohio and back not with liquor hidden in their car trunks but with phosphate soap instead. With unanimous student approval, school ended earlier, and 440 MH graduates entered the mainstream of tradition change.
